Juliette Armand Facials

Customized Facial €82, Express Custom Facial €45

Juliette Armand Elements pride their products on being able to adapt to 'your skin's mood'. We all understand we have a skin type but sometimes we suffer with certain conditions that we struggle to improve and this is when we need a professional skin therapist to talk to about our skin, someone who understands what our skin needs and knows what to do to improve it! This is where a Juliette Armand Elements Facial comes to the rescue. The amazing difference between this facial and most Others available is that this treatment will be completely customized for you! This treatment also includes a customized prescription for your skins recommendations.

Ceramide / Calming Facial €95: A facial for repairing, renewing, and recovering damaged skin. This treatment is aimed at repairing the acid mantle/barrier of the skin with Ceramides. With a damaged barrier, skin will feel really tight/stretched, itchy, red, or otherwise angry. Ceramides are lipids for strengthening weakened barrier. A broken barrier includes inflammation, patchy, flaking skin and is also partly responsible for rosacea, eczema, psoriasis, and acne. Ceramides are lipids that help form the skin's barrier and help skin retain moisture. Ceramides also help the skin protect against environmental aggressors like irritants, and pollution.

Age and sun damage reduce the effectiveness of your skin's natural ceramides—and can eventually deplete them, which weakens your skin's barrier. The results are drier, rougher skin, wrinkles, irritation, redness, and visible signs of dehydration. This is where skincare knowledge comes into play—because it really is possible to significantly restore what's

DERMALUX LED

Dermalux LED Light Therapy

Dermalux LED light therapy uses three different wavelengths, each of which has been clinically proven to provide excellent results. They can be used individually or together; this depends on the treatment required. The three different light waves are red light, near-infrared light and blue light, each with specific skin-healing properties. The wavelength determines the depth of penetration and thus the individual structures that are treated.

Dermalux LED Therapy €55

Add 20 minutes of Dermalux LED Therapy to any facial for only €20

Blue light

Blue light is effective in the treatment of all grades of acne and in preventing breakouts without provoking the skin with antibacterial properties. The best thing about this treatment is that there is no downtime, which means that up to one session per day can be performed. This means that the skin problem can be treated quickly and effectively with fast results.

Red light

Red light stimulates a rejuvenating and anti-inflammatory effect on the skin by improving cell function and proliferation. It enhances collagen synthesis and activates microcirculation and the lymphatic system. Helps stimulate and hydrate the skin's circulation, giving it a boost that reduces fine lines and slows the anti-aging process.

Infrared light

Infrared light has a powerful anti-inflammatory effect that accelerates cell and tissue repair and the release of growth factors. It is the most deeply absorbed wavelength of the three lights and works well with red light to produce collagen and elastin. This light is used to treat rosacea, redness and psoriasis. It helps counteract the visible signs of ageing and skin damage by reducing fine lines and wrinkles. reducing fine lines and wrinkles.

RADIO FREQUENCY

Radio Frequency

Radio Frequency gives exceptional skin tightening results for those areas that can't be targeted at the gym. Gentle waves of radio frequency are passed into the skin, creating comfortable heat in the lower layers. This heat kickstarts the skin functions which slow down with age, effectively making the skin believe as if it were younger. This leads to a tightening of elastin fibers, more collagen production which continues long after the treatment has ended and increased turnover of skin cells.

Dermatherm RF Non-Surgical Facelift €90.00

Radio Frequency is an FDA proven technology which is one of the fastest, most effective & extremely safe ways to tighten the skin whilst lifting, plumping & re-countouring the face. This results in plumper firmer skin which noticeably reduces fine line and wrinkles. It also boosts oxygen levels in the skin which will result in brightening dull skin.

RF is a sound wave which increases collagen production in the skin by heating the skin to 39 degrees, this tricks the skin to think there is trauma, which initiates the healing cascade - resulting in long term collagen production. It also instantly tightens elastin fibers.

A relaxing treatment which feels similar to a hot stone massage, it is suitable for all skin types (except rosacea), all ages, for those experiencing loss of firmness and dullness in the skin, eye ageing - dark circles/crows feet, double chins and sagging jowls, loose neck skin.
